ICAN Value Word:

In March we are practicing the trait of being 'Willing to Learn'!

"Being willing to learn means that you are openminded to always learning new skills and traits. People who are willing to learn new things and can show this quality can pursue new and exciting opportunities, taking on challenging but rewarding tasks and meeting their personal and professional goals."

*The capacity to learn is a gift
The ability to learn is a skill
The willingness to learn is a choice*

Spring Outings

We are beginning to see some warmer weather & plan more outdoor trips! With this, please consider the weather for specific outing days and send appropriate articles of clothing with your Individual.

We are excited to get some sun!
